MURDER!

TINSMITH ANGUS McLEOD SHOT.

Great excitement prevailed in the Town of Napance on the morning of Thursday last when it was learned that Mr. Angus McLeod's house had been burglarized during the previous night, and that Mr. McLeod had been shot and killed. Groups of citizens gathered on the streets to discuss the startling news, and all kinds of conjectures were made as to who could possibly have done such a deed. The town fathers assembled, and agreed to offer a reward of $100 for the discovery of the murderer. The Mayor, the police, and every townsman who could render any assistance were very ready to do so.

Mr. Angus McLeod is well known, not only in the town and county, but in many places all through the Central District. He was highly esteemed and respected, and unbounded sympathy is expressed for his wife, now left desolate, under such horrible circumstances.

It is supposed the burglar effected an entrance from the street into the front room, first by cutting out with a pocket knife or some sharp instrument, one of the bars at the bottom of the blind. This would admit the wind, and the burglar could then be seen. The cash was already raised, and propped up by a piece of wood. Ingress would then be easy. The leisurely way in which everything seems to have been done indicates the work of an old hand at the business. The disdainful leaving of the coppers, while taking the silver, the warning shot fired before the fatal discharge, all point in this direction.

THE INQUEST.

Early in the morning a message was sent to Dr. Meacham, M.P.P., who attended in the Town Hall at 1 o'clock, and opened an inquiry. The following were called as jury: Adam Fullerton, Lachlan McDonald, James Blair, M. C. Bogart, R. B. Allen, John McKenty, Irvine Parks, Geo. Parrott, Daniel Dey, David Shannon, Jas. Brandon, Alfred Alexander, F. W. Smith, William Burns, Fred Chinnick, J. R. Dafeo, F. W. Vandusen, John Fennel, sr., J. W. Robinson, Alexander Armstrong, E. W. Benjamin, James Russell, John Thompson, E. Ming, J. J. Perry. Mr. Parrott was chosen foreman.

The jury having been sworn, proceeded to the residence of the murdered man to view the body. Inspection showed a red hole a little way down from the neck on the left side. The body was slightly discolored around the shoulders, while the corners of the mouth and the nostrils showed traces of blood.

When the jury re-assembled in the Town Hall the coroner called the attention of the jury to the prostrated condition of Mrs. McLeod, saying he was afraid she would not be able to attend before them; but somehow would have to be devised for taking her evidence, which was to the effect that a noise was heard in the house, that Mr. McLeod got up to see what was the matter, and that he was threatened to be shot if he did not stay where he was, that two shots were fired, and that Mr. McLeod staggered into the room and fell.

Dr. RUTAN sworn.—About three o'clock this morning I heard a noise on the street. I heard Mrs. McLeod's voice, and I heard Mr. Elliott also, calling me by name, and saying Mr. McLeod had been shot. I went over to the house and found Mr. McLeod lying on the floor dead, and the floor was covered with blood. Mrs. McLeod said someone had been in to rob the house, and that one of the robbers had shot Mr. McLeod. I found he had been shot through the upper part of the chest, on the left side. Some of the principal arteries had probably been severed, perhaps the aorta, and death had been caused by profuse hemorrhage from a gunshot wound. I am not sure whether there was more than one

GEORGE BLEWETT sworn.—Was on the market this morning, and heard a noise. Went to McLeod's house, and saw other people there. Came off the train, as did some of the others whom I saw at McLeod's. Don't think the burglar could catch that train.

CHARLES STEVENS sworn.—Live in Napance. Know a man named Fred Somerville. Think he is a clerk. I went to see him off on Saturday night by train. But he did not go. Saw him on Saturday evening. Have not seen him since. Think he wore shoes. He had a dark brown soft felt hat. The hat shown me this morning looks like the hat Somerville wore. He was dressed in a light suit. His hat fell off and I picked it up for him and put it on him. The reason he did not go on the train, he said, was because he did not want to go home yet. He had to borrow money to get his fare, leaving cuff buttons and a pin.

J. N. ARMSTRONG sworn.—Know Somerville. He lives in Kingston so far as I know. Saw him last Saturday in the Brisco House. Went in the evening to see him off by the train. He got fifty cents from me for a pin. I and Stevens helped him on a train standing there. Saw him after that and left him that night at the station. There was no train timed for when we were at the station. Supposed Somerville intended to beat his way. Never heard Somerville say he had a revolver, nor saw him with one. He is given to drink a little, but do not know anything more against him. He has a wife and children.

J. W. DAURY sworn.—Am clerk at the Campbell House. Know Mr. McLeod, saw him last night. Gave him a $5 bill for small change. He had some more money besides, two or three dollars perhaps. Gave him an envelope to put this change in. There was a man came in about the time McLeod got change, a large man with dark clothes. There were several people in the room. I know a young man who could probably locate several rough parties whom I have seen around town these few days past.

HUGH RANKIN sworn.—Keep the Brisco House. Saw Somerville in my house on Friday night. Stayed there that night. A message was sent him from Kingston with three dollars. Saw him on Saturday. Saw him on Sunday also. Have not seen him since. Think he registered as Frank.

Geo. S. WENSDALE sworn.—Am a laborer was at the station on Saturday. Saw Stevens there. Asked me to see a person off on the train going east. Did not do so. The party did not go.

Adjourned until 7.30 in the evening.

ADJOURNED INQUEST.

STEPHEN GIBSON sworn.—Was at Belleville yesterday. Was near McLeod's a little before 3 o'clock. The train was late. Heard screaming as I was going down street. Then to McLeod's. Mrs. McLeod was outside, just coming from Mr. Elliott's which adjoins. She said, "Oh! Mr. Gibson, they have shot my husband, upstairs." She was much excited, of course, and wanted someone to fetch her brother. Jos. Light walked from the station with me, and heard the screaming also. Mr. Redner came on same train, and may have been taken for a stranger.

Quite a scene occurred at this time Mrs. McLeod being led into the hall by her brother, Mr. Paisley, and escorted to a seat amid profound sympathy, and expressed sympathy on every side of a now full hall.

MRS. CONNOR sworn.—Live with Mr. Elliott near McLeod's. Heard a shot there last night. I heard two shots, nearly close together. I went to the window of my house and looked out. Could not see anything, it was so dark. Mrs. McLeod came for me, and I went with her. Mr. McLeod was shot before I got near.

Mrs. ELLIOTT sworn.—I live near McLeod's. Heard some noise, as of a scuffle on the sidewalk. I went to McLeod's after his hops and the pickers have all returned to their respective homes in Enterprise, Croydon, North Fredericksburgh, Centreville and Marlbank. I visited the yard on several occasions whilst they were at work and found them eagerly striving with each other in order to see who could obtain the largest amount. The only subject I heard them discussing being of a political nature, but on account of there being no opposition it soon fell through, the whole party being especially "Gritty." A couple of young ladies professed to be Democrats.

Mr. J. S. Lochhead has been attending the Industrial Exhibition at Toronto.

Two young men from Yarker passed through here peddling musical instruments and plough shares. We think the late rains will affect their trade.

E. O'Connor will soon leave for the far west.

NEVER LOSES HIS UMBRELLA.

But It Takes Shrewd Planning to Get His Packages Home All Right.

"It seems to me," said the worried-looking man, "that memory is very much a matter of habit. Now, for instance, there's the umbrella, generally supposed to be the most elusive and easily forgotten of all things. I never forget mine, for I am accustomed to carry it daily, rain or shine, and I should miss it almost as much as I would my hat. But I am not accustomed to carry things home, and I seldom succeed when I try. I bought some collars once on my way uptown and carried them with me to the Polo grounds. I stowed them safely under my seat while I watched the game and—another wore the collars. Once, when I lived in the suburbs, I bought one day a fish to carry home. I placed it securely in the rack overhead in the cars, and—I hope the railroad folks have removed it before now. I tried yesterday to carry home a bundle containing some things that I had bought, and dis-sale for the balance of this month.

NAPANEE MILLS.

Expressions of regret and sorrow were heard throughout this village on Monday when word was received that Arthur T. Ross, of Picton, had died on Sunday, 10th. Mr. Ross was employed by the Napanee Cement Co. as book-keeper for nearly two years. He was trusted and respected by those who did business with him, and loved by those who knew him intimately. His parents have the deep sympathy of the people in this community.

Mr. James Madigan was badly kicked by a horse. Dr. Cowan dressed the wound. It is supposed he will lose the sight of one of his eyes.

Mr. Andrew Hill received a telegram on Thursday morning that his brother-in-law, Mr. Gilligan, was dead.

Word has just been sent here of the robbery and murder at Napanee. People are startled and indignant at such an outrage.

In the Human Body.

An interesting exhibit at the National Museum shows the physical ingredients which go to make up the average man weighing 154 pounds. A large glass jar holds the ninety-six pounds of pure water which his body contains. In other receptacles are three pounds of white of egg, a little less than ten pounds of pure glue—without which it would be impossible to keep body and soul together—484 pounds of fat, 84 pounds of phosphate of lime, 1 pound of carbonate of lime, 2 ounces of sugar and starch, 7 ounces of fluoride of calcium, 6 ounces of phosphate of magnesia, and a little ordinary table salt. Divided up into his primary chemical elements the same man is found to contain 97 pounds of oxygen—enough to take up, under ordinary atmospheric pressure, the space of a room 10 feet long, 10 feet wide and 10 feet high. His body also holds 15 pounds of hydrogen, which, under the same conditions, would occupy somewhat more than two such rooms as that described. To these must be added 8 pounds and 13 ounces of nitrogen. The carbon in the corpus of the individual referred to is represented by a foot cube of coal. It ought to be a diamond of the same size, because the stone is pure carbon, but the National Museum has not such a one in its possession. A row of bottles contain the other elements going to make up the man. These are 4 ounces of chlorine, 24 ounces of fluorine, 8 ounces of phosphorus, 34 ounces of bromine, 24 ounces of sodium, 24 ounces of potassium, one-tenth of an ounce of iron, 2 ounces of magnesium and 8 pounds and 18 ounces of calcium. Calcium, at present market rates is worth $800 an ounce, so that the amount of it contained in an ordinary human body has a money value of $18,900. Few of our fellow-citizens realize that they are worth so much intrinsically. —Cincinnati Commercial Gazette.

of pieces: I have, say, big bag, little bag, two overcoats, and umbrella. When I go aboard or leave the cars or boat I know that I ought to have five pieces, and I never forget them. But here again memory is a habit. On short trips, if I have anything to carry I try by one of three ways, if I think of it, to remember. If it is a bundle that I can put in my pocket, I put it there; that is obviously the safest way. Another way is to put the package on the floor of the car where I must stumble over it in going out. The other way is to carry it in my lap or to lean it up against me so that it will fall and attract my attention when I get up. If I neglect to take one of these precautionary measures the package is gone; but I never forget my umbrella."—New York Sun.

Cucumber Snakes.

Down in Miles River Neck, Talbot County, there is a spot where the average Chinese would delight to dwell. It is a place where Chinese cucumbers grow to an enormous size. This vegetable, however, assumes sometimes a shape which frightens the natives of the neighborhood, in spite of the fact that Talbot is a local option county. The cucumber grows long and slim, and at times twists itself into coils resembling a snake. A man going from Easton the other day to Miles River Ferry, in passing a little clearing in the woods, noticed a green looking object in a patch of vegetables, and he got over the fence to make a closer examination. He almost fainted. Another citizen came along soon afterward. The first man had revived and was leaving the patch at a Nancy Hanks gait. When accosted he said to his friend, "Been bit by a snake; 'woods full of 'em." Citizen No. 2 persuaded the frightened man to go back, and upon examination the snake proved to be a Chinese cucumber, about twenty-seven inches long, which in the course of growth had twisted itself up in the form of a snake. The cucumber was sent to The American office by express yesterday. It was grown on the farm of L. W. Trail, of Miles River Neck, and its shape is perfectly snakelike. Mr. Trail, it is said, has a quarter of an acre of them. The Chinese cucumber is not eaten to any extent in this country, except by Chinese and a few foolish cows. The former, however, import them in a dried condition from their native land, as they do stale eggs and other odorous luxuries. The Chinese like to see cucumbers grow, and they often cultivate them in their yards in the cities over here. The snakelike appearance of the vegetable does not frighten the slant-eyed foreigner, as he would eat with relish a green garter snake if he didn't happen to have anything else handy.—Baltimore American.

Secret Thoughts.

I hold it true that thoughts are things Endowed with bodies, breath and wings, And that we send them forth to fill The world with good results—or ill.

That which we call our secret thought Speeds to the earth's remotest spot And leaves its blessing or its woe Like tracks behind it as it goes.

It is God's law. Remember it In your still chamber as you sit, And should you did not dare have known And yet make comrades when alone.

These thoughts have life, and they will fly And leave their impress by and by, Like some March breeze, whose poisoned breath Breathes into home its favored breath.

And after you have quite forgot Or all outgrown some vanished thought, Back to your mind to make its home, A dove or a raven, it will come.

Then let your secret thoughts be fair, They have a vital dart and share In shaping worlds and molding fate—God's system is so intricate.

SOMERVILLE SENT FOR.

It transpired during the investigation that the man Somerville had been sent for from Kingston. Mr. Storms going for him. But his friends there would not hear of his leaving, contending an ample alibi could be proved. Mr. Storms again journeyed to Kingston with a warrant for Somerville's arrest, but had not returned when the inquest adjourned, 10 o'clock p.m.

bullet was the cause of Mr. McLeod's death.

A question arose here as to whether the bullet should be extracted, and the jury decided in the affirmative. Dr. Ruttan therefore left to secure the bullet.

G. M. ELLIOTT sworn.—During last night I was awakened by two pistol shots, and again a sound as of someone falling. Immediately after sounds as of a scuffle. I thought it was a row on the street, and reached for my watch and went out into the hall where a light was burning. It was ten minutes to three. I went to the front window and opened the shutters, but could not see anything. As I was doing this I heard a footstep, as though someone was walking. Closed the shutters, and as I did so he broke into a run. I noted that he had light shoes from the sound made in running. Returned to my bedroom, opened the window on the west side, toward Dr. Ruttan's, and called loudly to him. He answered at once and I told him Mr. McLeod was shot. I should have said before this that I heard a noise on the east side of the house, and on going there heard Mrs. McLeod say a man was in the house and had shot Mr. McLeod. As quickly as possible I ran over to Mr. McLeod's house. A number of men were standing outside. No one was inside excepting Mrs. McLeod and Miss Connor, who ran out of our place in there. I went in through the parlor dining room and back hall. Saw plenty of evidence that a burglar had been in the house. I stepped to the door and asked for someone to go upstairs with me. John T. Grange did so and we went up. Found Mr. McLeod lying on his side, face down, in a pool of blood inside his bedroom. Dr. Ruttan came up. We did not touch Mr. McLeod. Dr. Ruttan turned the face upwards, disclosing a gunshot wound in the upper part of the chest. Mr. McLeod was dead. I went down stairs, lit the gas in the hall and went for the Chief of Police. Mr. Perry, nightwatchman, came along, and together roused the chief. Went back to the house, went upstairs to view the body again, and as there was nothing could be done for the deceased, began to search for clues. Mrs. McLeod had told me that Mr. McLeod threw a water pitcher at the burglar and we found a small pitcher on the hall upstairs on the floor. It was not broken. There was nothing else to indicate any encounter. After consultation the chief went to the telephone office, and advised the station of the occurrence and I continued to search for some clue. I found a hat lying in the hall downstairs. It was a soft felt hat, dark brown in color, with a rather wide ribbon band, the lining being torn out. (The hat was not produced, the custodian being out of town.) I also found a bullet. There were two shots fired and that was why I looked for the bullet which I found downstairs lying on the floor, and now produce. The shots were fired in quick succession. (The bullet produce is of large size, for a pistol, 32 calibre.) We examined the house and found nearly every door unlocked, and that from the dining room was partially opened. Mrs. McLeod called to me from a window upstairs in her house. There was a light downstairs and also upstairs when I reached the house. The drawers of the secretary and book case were out, and other evidences were apparent downstairs that the place had been ransacked. There were probably ten or twelve people outside when I got there. It was about three or four minutes from when I heard the shots before I got to the house. I think there was only one burglar. I am of the opinion the work was not that of a novice. I think the man escaped through the front door. It was known to me that Mr. McLeod was treasurer of the mission fund. Every room in the house seems to have been visited, except Mr. McLeod's bedroom. Minnie McLeod told me there was about $22 in a satchel, missionary money, which had evidently been carefully gone over, because all the money was taken except about 50 cents in coppers. Mrs. McLeod's pocket book had also been ransacked.

J. F. SMITH sworn.—Came down street from the station about 3 o'clock. Heard a call for the police. Heard McLeod's mentioned, and followed the police there. Supposed it was burglars. Heard some one say "He is shot dead." Saw several people there whom I know. Made no examination myself. Quite a number of people came down with the bus. The train got in about 10 minutes to 3. I do not think the burglar could have caught that train when it went out.

WM. DEY sworn.—I heard a call for the police this morning when I was down town coming from the train. Asked the telephone man what was the matter. He said McLeod was shot. Went to the house, saw several men there whom I knew.

was running to and fro with the pillows, and before I had time to say another word or do anything a voice said, "If you stir or say another word I will shoot you," and a shot was fired, and my husband fell." There was a light burning and it showed me my husband was killed." Have seen a hat since the murder, found in the house. Have not seen the hat before. I saw the man. He was a small man. Had brown clothes, I think, but he made off in such a hurry, I could not well see. The burglar was upstairs and it was there he shot my husband. I think Mr. McLeod threw something at him. Can't say whether any thing besides money was taken. There was cake taken from the sideboard and put on the table. The man left the house by the door and ran across the street down towards the Campbell House. I think there were two shots and the second one was the fatal one, I think. I think it was about half past two I heard the noise. Did not miss Mr. McLeod getting up, and don't no how long he was up. There was only one man as I saw. I think the burglar crossed the street as I had the window open, calling "murder." By the poor light the clothes looked brown. I have no idea who the man was, as I did not think there was such a man as would do that to my husband. Can't say whether the man running away had a hat on or not. (Mrs. McLeod was so much affected as to be scarcely able to give her evidence, and broke down entirely several times.)

JNO. HEALNS sworn.—Went to McLeod's about six o'clock. Was told of a hat being found. I got the hat, and produce the same. (It was shown the jury and is a small brown felt hat.) I took the hat down street. Chas. Stevens said he knew the hat, by the band, and the sweat band being torn out. Thomas Lewis also identified the hat as being that worn by Somerville.

WM. BLEWETT sworn.—Would know Somerville if I saw him. Saw him last on Friday night. He wore a hat like that produced.

CHAS. ANDERSON sworn.—Don't know Somerville, but saw a man that I take to be Somerville, on Tuesday at the station. He is quite a good sized man. Didn't notice his hat.

DR. ALLEN RUTAN recalled.—I have examined the deceased McLeod and found the bullet, and produce the same. The shot could not have taken a more fatal course. McLeod must have been leaning over the banister, and was shot from the stairs, because the ball passed through the body in a very downward direction, through the lung, and striking the eighth or ninth rib. (The bullet is the same size as the one shown in the afternoon.) The witness was of the opinion that the first shot was fired as a warning, that McLeod then threatened with or threw something, and then the fatal shot was fired.

RICHARD LAWSON sworn.—Saw some tramps around yesterday, but not with a hat like the one produced. Thought they looked suspicious characters.

JACOB H. CLAPP sworn.—McLeod was in my shop on Wednesday wanting change. Could not give him what he wanted. Miss Shirley and a man from Deseronto was there, and no one else. Have seen the man with the bad arm shabbily dressed.

THOMAS H. WALLER sworn.—I have seen Somerville and have spoken to him. Can't say when this was.

WM. LEWIS sworn.—Drive the stage to Kingston. Have seen Somerville in Napanee. Think on Monday at the Campbell House. He has been drinking quite a lot lately.

HERBERT WRIGHT sworn.—Saw Somerville in Napanee. He wore a grey suit and brown hat.

DR. GRANT sworn.—Assisted Dr. Ruttan in the post mortem. I agree with him in the main, but think McLeod was shot in a scuffle. If McLeod was stooping the bullet would take the course it did.

THOS. LEWIS sworn.—Am porter at the Campbell House. Do not know Somerville; Have seen a man on the drunk, dressed in light suit, with a brown hat, from Kingston. Had a little "chewing the rag" with him. The hat produced looks like the hat he wore. I saw the last of him on Monday or Tuesday of this week. He had a sandy moustache. Was not overly tall. Am sure I saw the man this week.

NEWTON CONNOLLY sworn.—My dog followed a man across my yard at a quarter after three this morning. The track is there now. It is a small footmark. This is near the station. There was a freight at that time going east, I think.

At this stage, Mr. A. L. Morden, the Crown Attorney, said there were several more witnesses required, who would have to be subpoenaed, and an adjournment would be necessary until Monday evening next at 7 o'clock.

NAPANEE, FRIDAY, SEP. 15th, 1893.

A TARIFF is always a tax. This is something that wants to be continually pounded home, and the only justifiable tariff is one to meet the needs of the government economically administered. This is the ground taken by the liberals and is impregnable.

Mr. FOSTER announced in the Maritime Province that he would protect manufacturers to the extent of fifty per cent, if necessary, in order to save them from foreign competition. If fifty, why not seventy-five? And why not a hundred? There is nothing that we cannot produce if we only make the duty high enough. Bananas are very largely used. A tax of five dollars per dozen would enable us to grow all we want in hot houses.

In his Orangeville speech the finance minister, Mr. Foster, declared that "ninety per cent of the men who had invested money in manufacturing under the National Policy had failed." That was a startling commentary upon the policy as a means of sustaining manufactures and building up this young country. Anyone saying after this that the Dominion is prosperous because of the N. P. must either be grossly ignorant himself, or conclude that other people are.

THE Montreal Gazette says that "Over in the United States Mr. [Name] Secretary of the treasury, is [Name] in serious need of more money. It is a peculiarity of free trade administrations on this continent that they always do want more money."

Then the Gazette admits that the present Democratic government of the United States is "a free trade administration," thus giving the lie squarely to Mr. Foster, the Empire, and other Thompsonians who have been contending that there is no free trade party in the United States and that the Democrats are protectionists.

THERE seems to be an impression on the minds of some electors that two general elections may not be far off. So far as Ontario is concerned, this is the opinion of the Ontario Legislature: "On April 10th last, before moving the adjournment of the Ontario Legislature the Attorney-General said that the notion seemed to prevail that the government contemplated having a general election before another session of the House. It was only right to say, for the information of the members and the people generally, that this was not so. They had always contended that there should be a fourth session of the legislature before an election, and that would continue to be the policy of the government." Mr. Mowat having said so that settles it. He means precisely what he says. What the Dominion government intend to do, we do not know; but if some plain statement were made by Sir John Thompson, all doubts would be dissolved.

WE endorse the following taken from the "Weekly Sentinel Review," published at Woodstock.—"Hon MacKenzie Bowell is going to Australia to promote trade with the far ends of the earth—and, we trust, also to enjoy himself. Mr. Bowell has been one of the few industrious and capable men in a cabinet of incapables. Moreover, he is one of the members of the government whose relations to his opponents have been unusually pleasant. Whether it is because he is an old journalist or because he has more sense than most of the men around him we do not know; but certain it is that Liberal journalists have always entertained a more kindly feeling towards Mr.

Messrs. DOUGLAS BRO. & Co:
GENTLEMEN,—I have much pleasure in offering you a testimonial on the cure of Barber's Itch. For over three weeks my face was nothing but a mass of sores, and it was still getting worse. It got so bad that I was ashamed to go out on the street. I went to a very prominent doctor of this town and he told me it would be a few months before I could get rid of it. On a Sunday a neighbor came in to see me, with about half an ounce of your DOUGLAS' EGYPTIAN LINIMENT and requested me to try it. I thought I would give it a trial; I put it on my face that same day, and inside of three days my face was as smooth as ever it was. I might also say that I only bathed my face since and I consider I have a permanent cure. I cannot recommend your Liniment too highly for the cure it has been to me. This I declare to be true and correct. I remain, yours,

She Explains why the Sisters and their Pupils are so Healthy.—Due to Strict Rules of Hygiene and the Medicine used in the Home.—Information of value to Everybody.

From the Terre Haute, Ind., Express.

Four miles to the northwest of Terre Haute, lies the beautiful and picturesque village of St. Marys. This is a Roman Catholic Institution which has attained something more than national celebrity. Fifty years ago it was established by six sisters of Providence, who came from the shores of France to lay the foundation for this great charitable order. It now consists of the home of the Sisters of Providence, known as the Providence House; a large female seminary, one of the finest chapels in the United States, and a Rectory in which the priests make their home.

A reporter of the Express while being shown through the establishment recently asked Sister Mary Ambrose if there was any apparent reason for the good health with which the sisters and their pupils are blessed.

The answer was that particular attention is paid by the sisters in charge to the health and happiness of the students. "Bodily ailment," she said, "cannot help but have its effect on the mind. In order to keep the mind bright and active and perfectly clear at all times, the student's condition must be as nearly perfect as possible. Some time ago there was more or less ailment noticeable among the sisters and students, which was probably due to atmospheric causes, though of course I do not know just what its origin really was. Shortly after this became noticeable a friend highly recommended a medicine called Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People and so urged upon me to give them a trial that I ordered some of them, and they have been used in the institution ever since. A few days ago the manufacturers wrote me for an opinion of Pink Pills, and my reply was as follows:—

"RESPECTED SIRS—In answer to your kind request for our opinion of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, are pleased to say that these pills were so highly recommended to us that we were induced to try them, and we think our repeated orders for them are sufficient evidence that we find them all they are represented, a good blood builder and an excellent nerve tonic.

Yours very respectfully,

SISTER M. AMBROSE,

Secretary for Sisters of Providence."

Medical scientists concede that weak blood and shattered nerves are the fruitful cause of nearly every disease to which human flesh is heir, and if Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is, as Sister Ambrose says they have found it, "a good blood builder and an excellent nerve tonic," the source of good health at St. Mary's is easily traced.

Sister Ambrose said they are never without Pink Pills, and that now they order a gross at a time.

This is certainly a very high recommendation for the medicine, for there is probably no class of people that gives more attention to the physical health and welfare of its members than the Sisters of Providence, and they would not use anything in which they did not have unbounded faith.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are truly one of the greatest medical discoveries of the age. They are the beginning of a more healthful era. Every day brings reports of remarkable cures that have resulted from the use of this wonderful medicine. In many cases the good work has been accomplished after eminent physicians had failed, and pronounced the patient beyond the

THE VENICE OF THE EAST.

Bangkok, the City of Smells, Where the Death Rate is Appalling.

Bangkok, the capital of Siam, has been termed very unhappily the Venice of the east. The New York Tribune thinks that perhaps as regards smells (in which alone there is any comparison between them) it would have been juster to call Venice the Bangkok of the west. But even then an outrageous affront would have been offered to Venice. It is useless even to attempt a description of the smells of Bangkok. To do so would require a quarto volume, to catalogue them would require the services of an analytical chemist, and to read the account of them would leave the reader in blissful ignorance of his subject. The streets are the repository of every form of refuse and are never swept or cleaned by hand of man. It is appalling to contemplate what must be the death rate in a city inhabited by 350,000 to 600,000 persons, especially in periods of great cholera epidemics, such as attend the failure in the wet seasons. Eastern droughts are frightful calamities. A weak monsoon means insufficient rainfall for the rice crop. The cool season, November to January, is followed by the terrible hot season, during which never a drop of rain can be looked for. The River Menam—"Mother of Water"—polluted by every conceivable and inconceivable abomination of animal and vegetable matter, the rotten corpses of men and carcasses of beasts, is very low; it is, moreover, tidal at Bangkok, and its pestilential waters, with their hideous flotsam, are driven back every high tide by the waters of the sea and rendered dangerously brackish. The stream is the color of pea soup. Fill the jar and stir the water with a piece of alum, and in ten minutes it will be as clear as the purest spring water; all its suspended matter will have sunk to the bottom into a thick gray stratum. But woe to the stranger mad enough to taste the glass.

Just make a mental note of this label, it is on the inside cover of the box and is always a guarantee of prime quality and exquisite flavor. S. DAVIS & SONS are the manufacturers therefore you may be sure they are right.

in a condensed form all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood, and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, that tired feeling resulting from nervous prostration; all diseases depending upon vitiated humors in the blood, such as scrofula, chronic erysipelas, etc. They are also a specific for troubles peculiar to females such as suppressions, irregularities and all forms of weakness. They build the blood and restore the glow of health to pale and sawlow cheeks. In the case of men they effect a radical cure in all cases arising from mental worry, overwork, or excesses of whatever nature.

These pills are manufactured by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, of Brockville, Ont., and Schenectady, N.Y., and are sold in boxes (never in loose form by the dozen or hundred, at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or direct by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, from either address. The price at which these pills are sold makes a course of treatment inexpensive as compared with other remedies or medical treatment.

Life in Equatorial Africa.

Some years ago Captain Hore, who spent some years in the command of a mission steamer on Lake Tanganyika, visited New Zealand. He addressed the Sunday school children, and succeeded in interesting them by his curious and instructive information about Central Africa and its inhabitants. We take the following account of life in Tanganyika from the Grahamstown Journal (Cape of Good Hope):

"Captain Hore," says the Journal, showed that the life and habits of the people of Tanganyika did not differ in essentials from those of people leading a simple existence elsewhere, and the impression made upon him, especially of the people settled to the northeast of the lake, was decidedly favorable. They had no literature, and consequently knew of no past. They had no knowledge of the outer world, and therefore could neither hear nor think about other people; but they were too busy to feel ennuï. When a man wanted a house, he did not consult advertisements; he had to set to work, choose a site, and build it. The day's life began early. First, the women and girls went to fetch water in vessels they themselves had made; then they took axes, which their husbands or brothers had made, and cut wood for fuel; then they ground corn, which the family had grown, and which was stored on shelves in the hut out of the way of rats, for their porridge, and so they earned their breakfast. All hands turned to at sowing time and harvest. It was an error to suppose the men did not work. They sometimes worked both night and day, and suffered great hardships as bearers in expeditions. The women were not more harshly dealt with than they were in England. One thing was to be said for these people: they were self-supporting and self-reliant. Everything they enjoyed was the fruit of their own labors and ingenuity. They had developed the fishery and navigation of the lakes, and in fishing they employed all the appliances, nets and lines that the lecturer had seen in every other part of the world. Nor were they without ornamental art, for their earthenware was of graceful design, and Captain Hore had a canoe-man who composed a long poem about the white stranger, and sang it to an instrument of his own making."

that the natives drink this fetid liquid without any such precautions as even the clearing alum it may be imagined what a cholera outbreak means. The vultures and pariahs cannot devour the bodies fast enough; the river cannot carry them down against the tide. A truly terrifying picture is that of an eastern city in a cholera epidemic. As a matter of fact, cholera is always an epidemic, and so loses its terrors for the apathetic native until it be upon him.

BRITAIN TO BUY OUR HORSES.

A MOTION IN THE COMMONS TO STOP PURCHASING IS REJECTED.

Revolt in Uganda and an Uprising in Mashonaland—The Western Australian New Constitution—New Plank in the English Liberal Platform—General cables.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—In the House of Commons last evening the practice of purchasing horses for the troops in Canada and meat and fodder in the States and the Colonies was criticized.

It was urged that English breeders should be encouraged to produce the class of animals required, so as not to render it necessary to buy horses in Canada or Ireland.

It was charged that three-quarters of the meat purchased abroad in a frozen condition was unfit for use.

Campbell Bannerman, Secretary of the State War Department, defended the quality of the supplies and said the troops were well satisfied.

The vote to reduce the estimates, proposed in order to express disapproval of the Government's policy, was rejected by 141 to 31.

MENDING OR ENDING THE LORDS.

Is Now Declared to be a Plank in the Liberal Platform.

LONDON, Sept. 13.—The National Liberal Federation last night issued circulars against the Lords, declaring that seven years' discussion and 82 days' consideration by the Commons, and the definitely ascertained wishes of two million electors count for nothing when opposed to the views of 400 Conservative peers.

The circular declares that the mending or ending of the House of Lords is now in the front rank of the Liberal program in accord with Gladstone's declaration at Newcastle, and concludes that Home Rule, having passed the Commons and been rejected by the Lords, is doubly certain to become law. Not only will the Irish question be settled, but a real era of reform is dawning for the democracy of the United Kingdom.

PROF. CAMPBELL A HERETIC

THE PRESBYTERY OF MONTREAL DECLARES HIM GUILTY.

The Reverend Professor Made a strong Speech in Rebuttal of the Charges and in Defence of His Kingston Lecture—The Vote Almost 2 to 1 for Committal.

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—“A review of the inspiration of the Holy Scriptures, which impugns and discredits them as the supreme and infallible source of religious truth.”

That was the count of the libel on which Professor John Campbell, professor of church history and apologetics in the Presbyterian College, was yesterday found guilty of heresy by the Presbytery of Montreal.

The attendance of members was very large and the interest was intense all day. The vote for committal stood 21 for and 13 against.

The Rev. Professor was called on in the afternoon for rebuttal evidence and read, a carefully prepared statement of five columns in length, dealing with the two counts of the libel and his Kingston lecture.

He said: “For the defence of the gospel I stand here with, so far as my libelled lecture is concerned, a good conscience towards God and man. I had a great truth to declare, namely, that in our Lord Jesus Christ we behold the Father in heaven, whom the world naturally regards with fear as the sovereign ruler and judge, in the hope that by learning to know this Father the fear which hath torment might be cast out of some hearts and that men might be helped thereby to use to a sense of the dignity as assessors on the throne of the Son of Man and heavenly representative in judgment upon all sin and evil, physical as well as moral, and upon the enemies of our race, diabolical as well as human, who are contrary to the will of God.”

“I have stated truth strongly because I wished to rouse men to think. I have been willing to be called a fool in so doing that others might become wise thereby.”

Rev. Robert Campbell, after his address, moved that the first count be held proven, and a discussion lasting from about 4 till 11 ensued. Rev. James Barclay strongly defended Prof. Campbell, and moved that after having taken a conjunct view of the whole lecture, and Prof. Campbell's statements, the count be not held proven, the Presbytery at the same time reserving to itself

The alarm was sounded and the settlers called into the fort with all arms, ammunition and provisions procurable. The fort has been placed in good order for defence with all watertanks filled.

The Herald also wants the Canadian people to make another appeal for an enquiry by the British Board of Agriculture and says that they ought to obtain a more definite answer than they have yet received.

INTERNATIONAL CRICKET.

Scores in the Innings Unfinished Yesterday.

TORONTO, Sept. 13.—The International cricket match is still unfinished. Play was resumed at Rosedale yesterday in perfect weather. The Canadian's second innings was very prolific and yielded 236. This left 147 runs for the visitors to make to win, as their first innings had resulted in 177.

Of the 147 Uncle Sam's representatives secured 106 for the loss of 5 wickets when stumps were drawn for the night. Thus today they have 41 runs to make to win, and Messrs. Ralston, Dixon, Cregar, Thomson, Biddle and Cowperthwaite are the six who are left to do the trick.

Britannia 30 Seconds Behind in the Race Off the Isle of Wight.

RYDE, Isle of Wight, Sept. 13.—The Navaho and Britannia started about noon to race from the Needle to Cherbourg and back for the Brenton Reef Cup, won in the United States by Sir Richard Sutton's cutter Genesta in 1885, which vessel also won the Cape May Cup, which will be contested for probably Wednesday at Cherbourg. At 5 this afternoon the Britannia entered the west channel roads, closely followed by Navaho, which overhauled and passed Britannia as she passed out in the east.

The Navaho rounded the breakwater at 5.12.10, and was followed 20 seconds later by the Britannia. Booms were swung to starboard, and with everything set and drawing well the boats headed for the finish. The wind at the time the boats went around the breakwater was blowing a fresh easterly breeze that promised to hold until the finish. The race will probably end at about midnight.

The Times says the Navaho rounded the stake boat at Charebourg at 5.12 p.m., with the Britannia 20 seconds later.

BLAKE DECLINES TO TALK.

He Refuses to be Interviewed Regarding British Politics.

QUEBEC, Sept. 13.—The Beaver Line S.S. Lake Huron, Capt. Carey, arrived here from Liverpool shortly after 5 o'clock yesterday and moored at the Grand Trunk wharf at South Quebec. Hon. Mr. Blake was one of the passengers on the Lake Huron. At 6 o'clock Mr. Blake left the Lake Huron and crossed to Quebec where he took his ticket on the Richelieu & Ontario Navigation Company's steamer Carolina for Murray Bay.

Mr. Blake refused to be interviewed with regard to English politics. During conversation, however, he declared that the position of the Liberal party was still unchanged. He positively refused to give an opinion as to the future measures to be taken by the Liberal party and the Home Rule question. "The Home Rule question," he said, "is pretty much the same now as what it was when Lord Salisbury went out of power."

Concerning the Irish factions Mr. Blake said, "They are also unchanged," and he declined to speak any further on the matter. Mr. Blake left at 8 a.m. to join his family at Murray Bay.

THE PREMIER IN MONTREAL

A ROUSING RECEPTION ACCORDED HIM AT LAST NIGHT'S MEETING.

Sir John Thompson Deals With the Behring Sea Award, the Manitoba School Case and the Recently Revised Policy of Mr. Laurier.

MONTREAL, Sept. 13.—The reception tendered to Sir John Thompson at the Drill Hall this evening was not only one of the largest political gatherings held in Montreal for some years but was in every way a grand success.

The immense hall was crowded, whilst the balcony over the platform was well filled with ladies. The front and rear of the platform were handsomely draped with flags, the arms of England being in the centre and the words, "Welcome to our chief" in English and French over them.

Mr. Henshaw, President of the Liberal-Conservative Club, occupied the chair. Ministers present were: Sir John Thompson, Sir Adolphe Caron, Hon. George E. Foster, Hon. J. J. Curran, Hon. J. A. Ouimet and Hon. Mr. Angers.

The chairman in opening the meeting expressed his pride at the magnificent gathering. They were proud of Sir John Thompson and his work, which was work not only for the Liberal-Conservative party, but for every man, woman and child in their beloved country. The work he had done in the Behring Sea arbitration had done more than anything to bring Canada before the nations of the world as one of themselves.

Mr. Mignault in French, and Mr. McDonnell, in English, then presented Sir John with a congratulatory and adulatory address.

Sir John Thompson's rising was the signal for a burst of applause, lasting several minutes. He spoke briefly in French, and then turning to English said he would like very much to fulfil the promise made by him that he would address them in both languages. If he attempted it he should be like a speaker of the House of Commons, who, though his mother tongue was English, occasionally read the prayers of the House in French. One member asked another how the Speaker got on with his French. "Oh," was the reply. "Perhaps the Almighty may understand him, but I do not."

went about bearing a magnified exodus on the N.P. When did the Opposition ever do anything to ameliorate the condition of the country or keep people in the country? The Government had added 112,000 workmen to Canada and a hundred and forty million a year in wages. Yet every time one of the people left for the United States or elsewhere the Opposition blamed the N.P.

At the time of the Liberal convention was held a curious object lesson was given in the United States. The leaders of the Opposition were showing the advantages of living in the United States, when a cyclone struck that country, which caused a change of policy. At that time Canadians were better off than people in England, France or any other country. In the United States one bank had broken to every 250,000 people, in Canada one to five millions.

He contrasted the condition of the farmer in free trade England most unfavorably with that of the Canadian farmer. Farmers before voting would see the hollowness of the Opposition's representations.

The Government did not desire to tax any one class for the benefit of any other. The time had arrived when the tariff would be reduced, but the Government did not mean to place the industries of the fisheries, the farming and the mines at the disposal of strangers. Tariff for revenue did not keep down the public debt. The N. P. had increased trade by $28,000,000 per annum, against a falling off of $20,000,000 per annum under tariff by revenue. Depression in the United States had never been so little felt in Canada as this year.

Passing from the tariff question, Sir John took up the Manitoba school question. He had been challenged to speak plainly and openly and he meant to do so. His opponents would say he spoke vaguely after all. Time after time he was accused of betraying Catholic interests, and as often in another province he was accused of conspiring with the Catholic hierarchy for the subversion of Protestant rights. True there was a suspicion in the great mind of Mr. Tarte that he, Sir John, had entered into a league with Archbishop Tache. He had denied this on the floor of the House, but Mr. Tarte went to the convention and said he would prove it. Then the venerable Archbishop denied it. He, Sir John, would prefer to take the Archbishop's word to that of a thousand Tartes.

The facts were these, Manitoba passed two acts about separate schools. The religious majority took this ground that while it was true that every province had the right to make its own laws as regards the fulness of his heart. His feelings were too great for expression, too great for ordinary speech, but he thanked them from the bottom of his heart.

He would have refrained from making the Behring Sea arbitration any part of his speech, as it did not belong to politics, but he had no choice, as the leader of the Opposition had in another province made allusions to it.

That gentleman had said he could not see why he (the speaker) had advised his countrymen to be satisfied with the result, as it seemed to him that the council representing Canada had been rebuffed at every stage. Then they had advanced arguments not noticed, and then to express satisfaction was to be like the man in Scripture, who, when smitten on one cheek, offered the other.

The only apology for the hon. gentleman was that he knew nothing about the matter and had evidently not read the award. Respecting rebuffs, the United States claimed to have closed the Behring Sea not only to Canada but to every nation. That claim was made by Russia 10 years ago, and had been in controversy ever since, and one point was whether the pretensions of Russia, to which the United States succeeded, were well founded or not. The contention as to seals was that no seamen of any other country had a right to pursue them in any part of the Pacific ocean; that would have closed three thousand square miles to the world.

The contentions of the United States were so unsound that the arbitrators ignored them, and the Canadian arguments were upheld. The decisions of the arbitrators as to what was necessary to preserve seals were, in his opinion, more severe than might have been devised. This is not in accordance with Mr. Laurier's views, but shows that the contentions of the Canadian counsel were well founded in international law. He was satisfied with the decisions, but not so satisfied as to say that when they came to work under them they might not be improved. The restrictions as to the 60-mile limit and the use of the gun affected sealers of other countries as well as those of Canada.

The address had alluded to this being his first visit to Montreal since he became premier, and acknowledging this, Sir John Thompson deplored the calamity which had deprived the country of the great services of Sir John Abbott. He spoke in eloquent terms of the late premier, and said his highest ambition was to be a worthy successor to the great men who had gone before him.

There was nothing more desirable than that both ministers and members of the Opposition should discuss their program from time to time. He came to such a decision without the consent of a convention of the party. They did not need a convention, they stood on the principles which had governed in the past and made Canada a great country. The Opposition had held a convention; 1500 men from the sea had marched on Ottawa, seen the Parliament buildings and been unanimous in one thing, a determination to put the Government out of office.

The Opposition had need of a convention, for they were about to change their policy. They had gone to the country with gay hearts on other policies, and some months ago their leader said they would live or die on unrestricted reciprocity. There was nothing a man was apt to be so mistaken about as that he was dead sure of. They all agreed to let unrestricted reciprocity drop.

The Liberal-Conservative party stood on the policy on which the party stood 15 years ago. That policy was adopted in an hour of tribulation. Great things have been achieved and there was more to achieve. Some hopes had not been fulfilled. He admitted that the circumstances of the country had greatly changed. He admitted that the tariff required changing. The population made a difference, and the development of the country made a difference requiring changes which had come to be a part of the policy of the Government of which he was the head.

The Opposition had a tariff reform policy. They proposed to make changes despite the majority of interests involved. The Government proposed to make changes after minute enquiry and research into the interests involved. Whilst admitting that their policy had not in the past done all they hoped, it had done great things for Canada. It had improved Canadian trade, both as regards exports and imports, it had developed work and had been successful in establishing public works all over Canada, of which any country might be proud, and had increased the union between the provinces and this great Confederation.

He did not contend that it had kept all the people in the country. The Opposition education, it could not take away right which existed before the province entered Confederation. This the Government said was a question of law. It was referred to the courts but afterwards taken out because it was not in shape. It was necessary for some one to lay a case. This was done and the Government paid the expenses. The decision was against the minority in Manitoba, that the statute did not infringe any right. As regarded that decision it was final, and no man could take umbrage at it. The Archbishop and the minority then said we appeal to you and the Governor-in-Council to give us remedial legislation to enable us to educate our children. What was the result? The Province of Manitoba was admitted under an act by which this power was not given. It was the only province without this power. The Archbishop urged that though not in the British North America Act the province was entitled to relief. The Government said no, and told the Archbishop this is a different question of law, and the courts must decide it on the points raised by your appeal. If the Government had acted without power they would have been put out of power for doing so. The Archbishop and those acting with him were wise enough to see this was the only course. He, Sir John, did not blame anyone, for not knowing to act, but he did blame Mr. Laurier for calling the Government cowards, and saying he himself would not give an opinion as the matter before the courts, when it had not been placed before the courts at all. It would come before the Supreme Court next month. It was not a question of what the schools are to-day, but what the statutes of the province make them. The Archbishop asked for redress by the annulment of the statutes. No man living could say what rights would be laid down. He asked them in conclusion to believe in the policy which had done so much in the past, and hoped Montreal would support the Government as it always had.

Sir A. Cahan, Hon. G. E. Foster and the other ministers spoke briefly.

THE LAMBERTON MURDER.

Wilson, the Alleged Slayer of Mary Marshall.

SARNIA, Sept. 12.—Albert Wilson was arraigned yesterday before Judge Falconbridge on a charge of murdering Mary Jane Marshall at Warwick in June, 1892.

Prisoner was madly in love with Miss Marshall, and on seeing her emerge from service on Sunday evening shot her down at the church door. He immediately left the country, but was recognized in an Orange parade on July 12 last in East Saginaw. His arrest and extradition followed.

B. B. Osler, Q.C., appeared for the defence and the case is expected to go to the jury to-morrow.

TOOK POISON IN THE STREET

After Summoning Her Neighbors to Witness the Act.

TORONTO, Sept. 13.—Kate Curran, wife of Joseph Curran, 44 Reid's lane, took rough-on-rats yesterday at 11 a.m. and died at 6.30 p.m. at the General Hospital. She was a large, handsome woman of about 25 years of age. Her husband is employed at the planing mill of Scholey Bros., 193 Ontario-street.

The woman subsequently secured, somewhere, no one seems to know where, the required poison, mixed it with water, and going out in the street at 11 a.m. called some people to witness the horrible deed and before anyone could interfere gulped down the powerful stuff.

A Trolley Accident.

TORONTO, Sept. 13.—About 5.40 yesterday afternoon as a west bound King-street motor, No. 328, was slacking up to stop at Strachan-avenue Mrs. Jane Britton, an old lady 65 years of age, who resides at 45 Stafford-street, came out of a store on the south side of the street and walked in front of the car, which was moving very slowly. The motorman put out his hand to shove her out of harm's way shouting to her at the same time, but to no purpose. Either she was bewildered, did not hear, or did not understand. She fell in front of the car which passed over both feet, severing one above the ankle and crushing the other. So slowly was the car moving that it was stopped before the hind wheel reached the victim.

Both feet will have to be amputated, as the bones of one leg are badly shattered and much blood lost, leaving her very weak. It will be almost a miracle if Mrs. Britton, at her advanced age, is able to survive this shock to her constitution.

COAL!

Notwithstanding the assertion of some people that I am no longer a "public benefactor" since my business is established, I desire to inform the community generally that it was my view when starting business to reduce the price of coal so that mechanics and laboring men would not be compelled to pay more than a reasonable living profit on the article, and I intend as long as I remain in business to study the interests of my fellow citizens, as well as my own. To prove my assumption I give facts and figures below which defy contradiction. At the beginning of my first year in business there was an arrangement on the part of the old coal dealers to sell coal at $6.25 per ton cash. I, that year, brought the coal down to $5.50, thereby giving the public a saving of 75c per ton. That year and the present compare as follows:

	1890	1893
Coal per net ton F. O. B. Oswego	$3.66	$4.24
Freight	25	41
Unloading	18	18
Screening	10	10
Loss per ton in screenings	16	19
Delivery	30	30

Selling price $4.65 $5.42
$5.50 6.25

From which should be deducted regular business expenses, interest, insurance, rent and office expenses 34 34

Profit per ton 51c 49c

From the above can be seen at a glance that the profit was 2 cents more per ton my first year than the present one. Other items of cost might justly be added to the above, such as appliances for handling, proper sheds, rapids, etc., which would all combine to further reduce the profits. Saying nothing of bad debts, and shortages, any intelligent person can see the profit in the coal business, where a large stock is carried from season to season is not sufficient to induce many to invest the necessary amount to carry on the business, (entailing much risk) with a possible profit of 9 per cent. Had I assisted in keeping the profit up to win 20 per cent. as it was when I began business I would be exacting an exorbitant price, as I am now UNJUSTLY ACCUSED of doing. I understand there is a cargo of coal being brought to town for which orders are wanted before the 20th inst. at $5.50 PER TON ON THE DOCK, which with present freight rates and other conditions is no better value than I can give you for FIRST CLASS PROPERLY SCREENED coal placed in your bins in good order at $6.25 per ton, or well screened and weighed for you in the yard for $6.00 per ton. Bear in mind that I guarantee to supply my customers the whole season as will be impossible in the other case. My coal is this year the best I ever had, LIGHT, DRY AND UNDERCOVER. Thanking my many friends for their liberal patronage during the past and assuring them of my best endeavor to serve them promptly and to their satisfaction in the future. Inspection before purchasing invited.

Yours truly,

J. R. DAFOE

Wedding Bells.

A happy matrimonial event took place in the Roman Catholic church at Napanee on Monday last. It was the marriage of Mr. Mark Pickins, of Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin, to Miss Elizabeth Campbell, of Napanee. Rev. Father Hogan performed the ceremony. The church was well filled with many friends of the bride who is very popular among those with whom she associated. She was attired in a dainty grey travelling costume. Miss Melleville, of Kingston, assisted the bride, and Mr. James McAvoy fulfilled the same duties for the groom. They received many handsome and costly presents. The happy couple left on the evening train for Kingston to spend a few days after which they return and leave for their future home in Wisconsin.

Died at Santa Clara, California.

Mrs. Pamela Roblin died at 6 o'clock yesterday morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. E. L. Hamby, corner of Lewis and Madison streets, after an illness of a year. She was a native of Napanee, Ontario, Canada, having been born there in 1812. She was the wife of the late David Roblin, who was one of the most prominent members of the Canadian parliament from 1840 until his death, twenty three years afterward. Three years ago the widow moved to Santa Clara, and during her residence here she made many friends, who will read of her demise with profound regret. Her funeral took place at two o'clock on Thursday the 7th, from the residence of her daughter, thence to the episcopal church where services were held.—San Jose Mercury, Sept. 6.

An Important Judgment.

On Saturday last Mr. Justice Falconbridge gave judgment in the case of Henzy vs. Dunbar, tried at the last spring assizes in Napanee in which damages were sought for the frightening of a horse while passing a steam thrashing machine, owned and worked by the defendant Dunbar on the farm of the defendant McFarlane. The reported judgment is "a judgment to be ended on and after the second day of the divisional court dismissing the action with costs. No costs of the trial at which the jury disagreed." This in effect is a judgment for the defendants the plaintiff to pay all costs except costs of first trial of which the parties each pay their own costs, the plaintiffs being given until second day of Division Court to appeal if they so wish. Solicitors McIntyre and McIntyre for plaintiffs, Morden and Rattan solicitors for defendants.

An Assault Case from Amherst Island.

On Tuesday, before Police Magistrate Daly, William Higgins, of Amherst Island a young man (17 years of age) was tried on a charge of indecent assault on a young lady at that place. On the night of Sept. 1st two young ladies were on their way from the church, where they had been attending bible class, and had got but a short distance when they noticed a young man following them. He quickly overtook them and when they noticed that he wore a mask they became badly frightened. They asked him his name but this he refused to tell, and reaching out he grabbed one of the girls by the arm, the other running for help to a house some four hundred yards distant. In the meantime the young man threw his victim to the ground and commenced running his hands under her clothes, but her yell for help being so loud he put his hand over her mouth to stop them. She caught his fingers between her teeth, biting them so severely that he promised to go away and let her alone if she would only let go. She did so and the young man jumped the fence alongside the road and disappeared in the fields. William Higgins was afterwards charged with the offence and owned up that he it was who had chased the girls, saying that he only intended to scare them. A warrant was then issued and he was brought to town by policeman Hunt. Police Magistrate Daly, as a warning to others, sentenced Higgins to two years imprisonment in the Reformatory for boys at Penitentiary, although had the charge been attempted rape, as the girl says his intentions undoubtedly were, the smallest sentence possible would have been seven years.

Long Lived People

An English investigator has examined the habits of centenarians. They were almost invariably lean people, of spare habit, and of great moderation in eating and drinking. Of 37, three took no animal food, four took very little, 20 a little, 10 a moderate amount, and only one acknowledged taking much meat. With regard to alcohol, the returns are much the same, and abstinence is found to be the rule of life with these centenarians. Fifteen had been total abstainers, either during the whole or part of their lives; two took very little alcohol, 22 a little, and 10 a moderate amount.—Medical News.

GENERAL NEWS.

On Wednesday of this week the first session of one of the most important meetings in the history of the church in Canada took place at Toronto. The opening ser-

"Winnipeg scheme." This scheme was submitted to the various diocesan synods that have met since then, and with some slight modifications has been accepted and ratified by all. The idea emanated from the Provincial Synod of Eastern Canada, the father of the movement or at least its most prominent supporter being Mr. Chas. Jenkins, a layman in the diocese of Huron. Mr. R. T. Walben, Q. C., chancellor of the Diocese of Ontario, took charge of the scheme at Winnipeg and safely piloted it through the criticisms of the provincial synod at Montreal last September. For the present meeting our delegates from this diocese are, first the Bishop, who, as metropolitan of the older province and one of the senior Bishops of the world by date of consecration will be the presiding officer, seconded by the following clerical delegates, Archdeacons Lander, Bedford-Jones, Canon Spencer, and Rev. J. J. Bogart, and lay delegates, Judge Wilkison, Napanee, Judge MacDonell, Brockville, R. T. Walkers, Q. C., chancellor of the Diocese, Kingston, R. V. Rodgers, Q. C., secretary of Synod.

It may be well to explain for the benefit of those not familiar with our ecclesiastical machinery that when this general synod shall have completed its organization our church parliament will consist of the following representative bodies from which it will be seen that the church so far as its temporal government is concerned is a thoroughly democratic institution.

First, we have our vestries in each parish which consult for the temporality of the church as they effect the individual congregation and in these vestries the suffrage is as broad as it well can be. Every regular attendant who professes to be a member of the church of either sex being a communicant in good standing has a voice and vote.

Second, there is the Diocesan Synod composed of the Bishop, clergy and three of all the dioceses within its limits. The presiding bishop is called the Metropolitan. The provincial synod consists of two houses, the upper house being composed of all the Bishops of the various dioceses within the province. The lower house consists of clerical and lay representatives elected in each order in the diocesan synod. And now this formation of a general synod contemplates a superior court, which, while allowing every freedom of action to the several subordinate councils in their various departments, shall legislate for the general welfare of the church as a whole. It will consist of all the Bishops in B. N. A. and delegates sent by each diocese according to population. The presiding bishop will receive the title of Primate, or perhaps Archbishop. This court, while acknowledging submission to the authority of the Church of England will practically round out the full organization of the church of Canada as a national branch of "Christe Church Catholic here on earth."

The Cholera Scare.

Fear kills more than cholera. Severe diarrhoea, purging, colic, cramps, etc., are often mistaken for choleric troubles. A few doses of Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry will remove both the disease and the terror it inspires.
